SECTION 7

a. ASSESSMENTS

The following assessment describes the relationship of the use of Community Development Block Grant funds to the objectives described in the 1991 CDBG Final Statement.

- (1.) The 1991 San Francisco Community Development Program was based on an overall strategy to meet urgent community development needs. The overall strategy consists of the following three major objectives:

- i. Increasing and Preserving Affordable Housing

One of the primary objectives of the Community Development Program is the provision of long term affordable housing for low and moderate income persons. Our housing activities are designed to increase and preserve affordable housing opportunities for a wide range of types of households, in addition to improving housing conditions. The Housing Site Acquisition Fund increases the supply of housing through new construction projects. The Community Housing Rehabilitation Program works to preserve existing housing by providing below market interest rehabilitation loans to correct code deficiencies. The Housing Programs Administration utilizes non-profit corporations that use the Housing Site Acquisition Fund and the Community Housing Rehabilitation Program to increase the supply of affordable housing. The Public Housing Rehabilitation Program increases the housing supply by rehabilitating previously uninhabitable public housing units. The Fair Housing Counseling and Technical Services Program supports housing activities by providing anti-discrimination counseling and assistance to groups with special housing needs. The Urban Renewal/Redevelopment Program uses to program income to complete activities which were stated in close-out agreements and assists displaced persons through the Central Relocation Services. To a larger degree than in the past, this program income from the S.F. Redevelopment Agency is being used for various housing, planning, public service and economic development activities.

- ii. Improving Neighborhood Environment

In order to complement housing improvements in low-income, high need neighborhoods, the City has designed programs to improve the neighborhood environment. Under the Existing Facilities Improvement Program, private non-profit recreational and multi-purpose facilities are rehabilitated to better serve the neighborhoods. New neighborhood centers may also be developed under this program. Under the Public Space Improvement Program, public spaces such as streets, alleys, or schools yards are upgraded with the installation of playground equipment, street furniture, murals, etc. Public space improvements can support both residential rehabilitation and commercial revitalization activities. A Homeless Program Pool also exists to provide funding for services directed towards assisting the homeless population. The addition of a Disability Access Program Pool was created to address the programmatic and physical access needs of persons with disabilities. In order to complete the revitalization of a neighborhood, certain public services are necessary. The Public Services Program provides legal, educational, recreational, employment, health and safety, child care and senior activity services.

iii. Increasing Economic Development

To increase economic development, the City implements programs that expand or improve small or minority-owned businesses. The Neighborhood Economic Development Corporations provide technical assistance to small and/or minority owned businesses to establish or expand businesses and to increase or retain jobs for low and moderate income persons. In addition, Community Development funds are set aside to provide the local share on business loans which assist in the creation and retention of jobs principally for lower income persons. Other non-profit corporations are funded under economic development to create employment for low/moderate persons and to generate revenues. Economic development activities also exist which are linked to the completion of the Western Addition, Hunters Point, and South of Market Redevelopment Projects. These programs stimulate the economic climate of the City as a whole. The Non-Profit Corporation Business Ventures program continues to assist stable non-profit community-based agencies to generate alternative sources of income and create jobs. And finally, both the Self Employment and Entrepreneurship Development and the SEED Loan Programs and Family Day Care Program continue to assist low and moderate income persons pursue entrepreneurial enterprises resulting in employment and job creation for themselves and others.

- (2) The following programs benefit low and moderate income persons: Housing Site Acquisition Program, Community Housing Rehabilitation Program, Housing Programs Administration, Public Housing Rehabilitation Program, Housing Programs Administration, Public Housing Rehabilitation Program, Fair Housing Counseling and Technical Services Program, Urban Renewal/Redevelopment Program, Community Facilities Improvement Program, Public Space Improvement Program, Public Services Program, Homeless Program, and the Economic Development Program which include the Non-Profit Corporation Business Ventures and the Self Employment and Entrepreneurship Development.

The Yerba Buena Center and Western Addition Projects aid in the prevention and elimination of slums and blight.

- (3) San Francisco's Community Development Program meets the 70% minimum benefit to low and moderate income persons.

b. DESCRIPTIONS

(1) Nature and reason for changes in your program objectives:

The City has not changed its program objectives because the current objectives are still appropriate to the City's needs. The addition of the Homeless Program Pool has allowed the City to respond to increased needs of the homeless population. The Disability Access Program Pool allows the City to provide the necessary physical and programmatic access improvements to allow persons with disabilities to participate in all aspects of the program. Otherwise, while the degree of need has increased, the City's objectives are still the most appropriate programs and strategies for addressing those needs.

(2) How would our program change as a result of our experience:

As previously stated, the City would not change any of the objectives, programs, and strategies stated. The City would like to augment its program if additional funds were available, since the degree of need is steadily increasing and existing efforts are increasingly limited.

c. A SUMMARY OF CITIZENS COMMENTS

Public hearings concerning the 1991 Community Development Program were described in the previous Grantee Performance Report. Four public hearings on needs were held during the month of May 1991 for the 1992 Community Development Program. 100 speakers gave testimony on public needs. A summary of comments is available at the Housing and Community Development office. An additional hearing was held at City Hall to review the performance of activities and the overall program. Eighty-three persons attended that hearing.

Over 274 letters were received from the general public in support of specific proposals submitted for consideration in the 1992 CDBG funding year.

NARRATIVE FOR JOB CREATION/RETENTION ACTIVITIES

Special Economic Development Assistance to Private For-Profit Entities.

Mayor's Office of Business and Economic Development (MOBED); ASIAN, INC.; Mission Economic Development Association (MEDA); and the Urban Economic Development Corporation (UEDC) provided financial and technical assistance to businesses needing such assistance in order to locate and remain in San Francisco, where a majority of the jobs to be created by the business will be available to low and moderate income persons.

The following steps have been taken by the City to ensure that the Small Business Concern (SBC) assisted will meet their obligations in providing jobs:

- o The SBC assisted agrees as part of the loan package to complete and sign the Employment Plan/Employment Profile. The Employment Plan confirms jobs to be created and hire dates, revised data as needed, discuss training needs and/or recruitment and screening procedures. Signing the form means the SBC agrees to use the City's employment and training system (the Private Industry Council (PIC) which administers the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) program) as First Source in recruiting and hiring for the new positions being created.
- o The SBC understands and agrees that after the loan is closed, a follow-up report is required on a semi-annual basis for a period of two years; hence, indicating the new jobs created since the loan closing date. The SBC agrees to permit on-site verification by the City's subgrantees.
- o The City's subgrantees send a reporting letter and Employment Profile to loan clients, applicable as to closing date, either March or September for a period of two years. A response deadline is stated and if the SBC fails to respond after the second letter, a third letter is sent to non-respondents. This letter states that their next loan statement will include a penalty of 15% as indicated in the loan agreement.
- o If the SBC responds and has not reached job creation goals, a regulation letter is sent setting forth PIC's program to arrange benefit from the reimbursements available by hiring through the employment and training system.
- o If the SBC responds and has been successful in meeting its employment commitment, a "thank you" letter is sent commending their efforts.
- o The City has included monitoring of jobs created in its CDBG Monitoring Plan.

SECTION 7

a. ASSESSMENTS

The following assessment describes the relationship of the use of Community Development Block Grant funds to the objectives described in the 1992 CDBG Final Statement.

- (1.) The 1992 San Francisco Community Development Program was based on an overall strategy to meet urgent community development needs. The overall strategy consists of the following three major objectives:

- i. Increasing and Preserving Affordable Housing

One of the primary objectives of the Community Development Program is the provision of long term affordable housing for low and moderate income persons. Our housing activities are designed to increase and preserve affordable housing opportunities for a wide range of types of households, in addition to improving housing conditions. The Housing Site Acquisition Fund increases the supply of housing through new construction projects. The Community Housing Rehabilitation Program works to preserve existing housing by providing below market interest rehabilitation loans to correct code deficiencies. The Housing Programs Administration Program utilizes non-profit corporations that use the Housing Site Acquisition Fund and the Community Housing Rehabilitation Program to increase the supply of affordable housing. The Public Housing Rehabilitation Program increases the housing supply by rehabilitating previously uninhabitable public housing units. The Fair Housing Counseling and Technical Services Program supports housing activities by providing anti-discrimination counseling and assistance to groups with special housing needs. The Urban Renewal/Redevelopment Program uses program income to complete activities which were stated in close-out agreements and assists displaced persons through the Central Relocation Services. To a larger degree than in the past, this program income from the S.F. Redevelopment Agency is being used for various CDBG-eligible housing, planning, public service and economic development activities.

- ii. Improving Neighborhood Environment

In order to complement housing improvements in low-income, high need neighborhoods, the City has designed programs to improve the neighborhood environment. Under the Community Facilities Improvement Program, private non-profit recreational and multi-purpose facilities are rehabilitated to better serve low and moderate income neighborhoods and clients. New neighborhood centers may also be developed under this program. Under the Public Space Improvement Program, public spaces such as streets, alleys, or schools yards are upgraded with the installation of playground equipment, street furniture, murals, etc. Public space improvements can support both residential rehabilitation and commercial revitalization activities.

A Homeless Program Pool also exists to provide funding for services assisting the homeless population. The addition of a Disability Access Program Pool was created to address the programmatic and physical access needs of persons with disabilities. In order to complete the revitalization of a neighborhood, certain public services are necessary. The Public Services Program provides legal, child care, educational, recreational, housing counseling, employment, health and safety, and senior activity services.

iii. Increasing Economic Development

To increase economic development, the City implements programs that expand or improve small or minority-owned businesses. The Neighborhood Economic Development Corporations provide technical assistance to small and/or minority owned businesses to establish or expand businesses and to increase or retain jobs for low and moderate income persons. In addition, Community Development funds are set aside to provide the local share for business loans which assist in the creation and retention of jobs principally for lower income persons. Other non-profit corporations are funded under economic development to create employment for low/moderate persons and to generate revenues. Economic development activities also exist which are linked to the completion of the Western Addition, Hunters Point, and South of Market Redevelopment Projects. These programs stimulate the economic climate of the city as a whole. The Non-Profit Corporation Business Ventures program continues to assist stable non-profit community-based agencies generate alternative sources of income and create jobs. And finally, the Self Employment and Entrepreneurship Development Program and its related SEED Loan Program and Family Day Care Program continue to assist low and moderate income persons pursue entrepreneurial enterprises resulting in employment and job creation for themselves and others.

- (2) The following programs benefit low and moderate income persons: Housing Site Acquisition Program, Community Housing Rehabilitation Program, Housing Programs Administration, Public Housing Rehabilitation Program, Housing Programs Administration, Public Housing Rehabilitation Program, Fair Housing Counseling and Technical Services Program, Urban Renewal/Redevelopment Program, Community Facilities Improvement Program, Public Space Improvement Program, Public Services Program, Homeless Program, and the Economic Development Program which include the Non-Profit Corporation Business Ventures and the Self Employment and Entrepreneurship Development.

The Yerba Buena Center and Western Addition Projects aid in the prevention and elimination of slums and blight.

- (3) San Francisco's Community Development Program meets the 70% minimum benefit to low and moderate income persons.

b. DESCRIPTIONS

(1) Nature and reason for changes in your program objectives:

The City has not changed its program objectives because the current objectives are still appropriate to the City's needs. The addition of the Homeless Program Pool has allowed the City to respond to increased needs of the homeless population. The Disability Access Program Pool allows the City to provide the necessary physical and programmatic access improvements to allow persons with disabilities to participate in all aspects of the program. Otherwise, while the degree of need has increased, the City's objectives are still the most appropriate programs and strategies for addressing those needs.

(2) How would our program change as a result of our experience:

As previously stated, the City would not change any of the objectives, programs, and strategies stated. The City would like to augment its program if additional funds were available, since the degree of need is steadily increasing and existing efforts are increasingly limited.

c. A SUMMARY OF CITIZENS COMMENTS

Public hearings concerning the 1992 Community Development Program were described in the previous Grantee Performance Report. Four public hearings on needs were held during the month of May 1992 for the 1993 Community Development Program. Over 100 speakers gave testimony on public needs. A summary of comments is available at the Community Development office. An additional hearing was held at City Hall to review the performance of activities and the overall program. Over seventy persons attended that hearing.

Over 250 letters were received from the general public in support of specific funding proposals submitted for consideration in the 1993 CDBG funding year.

The Employment Plan confirms jobs to be created and hire dates, revised data as needed, discuss training needs and/or recruitment and screening procedures. Signing the form means the SBC agrees to use the City's employment and training system (the Private Industry Council (PIC) which administers the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) program) as First Source in recruiting and hiring for the new positions being created.
- o The SBC understands and agrees that after the loan is closed, a follow-up report is required on a semi-annual basis for a period of two years; hence, indicating the new jobs created since the loan closing date. The SBC agrees to permit on-site verification by the City's subgrantees.
- o The City's subgrantees send a reporting letter and Employment Profile to loan clients, applicable as to closing date, either March or September for a period of two years. A response deadline is stated and if the SBC fails to respond after the second letter, a third letter is sent to non-respondents. This letter states that their next loan statement will include a penalty of 15% as indicated in the loan agreement.
- o If the SBC responds and has not reached job creation goals, a regulation letter is sent setting forth PIC's program to arrange benefit from the reimbursements available by hiring through the employment and training system.
- o If the SBC responds and has been successful in meeting its employment commitment, a "thank you" letter is sent commending their efforts.
- o The City has included monitoring of jobs created in its CDBG Monitoring Plan.
